

Plastic Fantastic

Do some research using the internet and find out as much information as you can about the harm plastic is doing to our planet. A good place to start would be looking at how long things will take to decompose and compost. Once you have done your research, present your facts in a leaflet to give out to people in your local community.

Use this space to write down your research.

Present your findings here. You could use official statistics and photographs.
